

Analysis of African Prose

African prose often focuses on themes like colonialism, identity, and tradition. Authors like Chinua Achebe in "Things Fall Apart" highlight the conflict between traditional African cultures and the forces of modernity and colonialism.